MICHAEL TRACY/Hora Certa: This hard blowing, swinging sax man is one of those cats that should be wider known but has other interests than being at the top of the charts. But when he hit's the record button, he loves being a gringo in Brazil where he soaks up everything about the place like a dry sponge and has a great time. Recorded in a few days with some pals on the fly during his last trip there, this is a sweet set of cross cultural jazz without being overly world in any sense other than it's worldly. It sounds like a great time was had by all. Purely a solid listening date that it nice to have in easy reach. Check it out.
