

Eudes Carvalho – piano

Eudes Carvalho is an internationally recognized musician, guitarist, and composer. He had his first contact with music around the age of 16, influenced by different styles of music such as Rock, MPB (Modern Popular Brazilian), and Jazz. Carvalho has an extensive musical background. He graduated from the University of Brasilia and School of Music of Brasília under the direction of professors Genil Castro and Paulo André Tavares.

He has performed throughout Brazil and the United States at such places as the Jazz Festival of Guaramiranga-CE, Brazil, Canto da Primavera Festival in Pirenópolis-GO, Brazil, The University of Louisville in the USA, and at the Rudyard Kipling in Louisville, Ky, USA. Carvalho has played with internationally renown musicians such Helio Delmiro, Ademir Junior, Hamilton Piniero, Eddie Gomez, Lionel Loueke, Craig Wagner, Mike Tracy, Harry Pickens, Phill DeGreg, Peter Kenudsen. Also, he participated in an exchange program "CAPES" funded by the Brazilian Government to study in the United States at the University of Louisville. In his time there, he had classes with internationally recognized musicians including Eddie Gomez, Lionel Loueke, Craig Wagner, Mike Tracy, Harry Pickens, and Jamey Aebersold.

Contact with music around the age of 16, influenced by different styles of music such as Rock, MPB (Modern Popular Brazilian), and Jazz. Carvalho has an extensive musical background. He graduated from the University of Brasilia and School of Music of Brasília under the direction of professors Genil Castro and Paulo André Tavares. He has performed throughout Brazil and the United States at such places as the Jazz Festival of Guaramiranga-CE, Brazil, Canto da Primavera Festival in Pirenópolis-GO, Brazil, The University of Louisville in the USA, and at the Rudyard Kipling in Louisville, Ky, USA. Carvalho has played with internationally renown musicians such Helio